New arrivals

The Green O offers a rare level of laid-back luxury in a unique, wild landscape. Its setting in Montana's forest recalls simpler days when hunting and gathering was a way of life, yet it affords some of the world's most evolved accommodations in terms of design, service and cuisine. Reykjavík finally gets the five-star hotel it deserves with this sexy newcomer, a mash-up of everything we love about Edition hotels with plenty of Icelandic flair.

Fort Barwara: It took almost a decade for this 700-year-old fort to be converted into a 48-suite hotel, but it's been worth the slog. A commitment to working with local communities is evident everywhere: Local women brew hot masala chai and cook bajra and jowar roti during the day; block-printers and bangle makers set up shop in little corners. <https://www.sixsenses.com/en/resorts/fort-barwara>
